6. Agreed Syllabus update

In December 2016, members from Cambridgeshire, Peterborough and Northamptonshire SACRE convened as the Agreed Syllabus Conference. It is a joint Agreed Syllabus Conference that has developed innovative ways of working to reduce cost and increase efficiency.

Amanda wanted to make it public record of her thanks to Janet Scott and Julia Ewans for their extremely hard work on the Agreed Syllabus review which has freed up time for Amanda.

6.1 Minutes from the ASC meeting on 27th February, 2nd May and 7th June 2017.

The minutes from the first ASC meetings were included in the members' meeting packs and circulated to all members prior to the meeting.

6.2 ASC report from the Chair

Julia Ewans (Chair of the ASC) has highlighted the simplistic nature of the revised Agreed Syllabus. The ASC has been looking at other SACRE syllabus so as not to reinvent the wheel.

Several primary schools have already agreed to trial the syllabus in September so the ASC need to agree on a framework at the next ASC meeting which is on the 6th July 2017.

The underlying units of study, support and progression is what teachers want from a syllabus. Areas of best practice are vital. Therefore we are relying on teachers and faith leaders for in-depth knowledge on the religions taught and members of SACRE must have their input.

Janet Scott very kindly drafted a progression document for Christianity which has set the standards for other religions to create their own progression documents. Aga Cahn created a similar document for Judaism and Shahla Suleiman created one for Islam. Shahla wondered whether the progression documents should include objectives and outcomes. The underlying units of study will then help teachers with knowledge of the religions.

The syllabus is a large bit of work and it relies on individuals to put in the time with their knowledge of their religions. The new agreed syllabus will be an exemplar. Due to in continuity in RE subject leaders, knowledge of the curriculum is getting lost in schools. The progression is intended as guidance as to what material is appropriate for each key stage.

Amanda met with several teachers to draft end of year and end of key stage statements for assessment. It is a simplified version which is generic in its teaching criteria for AT1 and AT2. It will be an electronic word document so that teachers can lift the statements to match their school's assessment and reporting method. Amanda asked if the SACRE committee were happy with the document to send out to schools now for assessment. The SACRE committee were happy with the document.

Action: Amanda Fitton to send assessment document to all schools.

10. Faith Direct Event 2017

Since the last SACRE meeting, Kerri McCourty has met with Dennis and Aga to plan the Faith Direct event for 2017.
