For children 0-5 who have Down’s syndrome and their families

If your child has been born with Down’s syndrome, whether you know before or after birth, there are support services that all children and their families will be offered in Cambridgeshire. Not every child with Down’s syndrome will require all of the services and not every child will need each service at the same time however your health visitor and Early Support coordinator will be able to assist you in organising support for your child and in turn support your family on this journey.

Coming out of hospital after your baby is born

Your Health Visitor will provide information and a referral to Early Support.

Medical care for mother and child will be provided as it would for any new addition to a family, to get you home safely and begin your life together.

Early Support Coordinators

Your Early Support coordinator will help to coordinate information, referrals, services and support for your child and family. They also support the professionals working as a team around your child and family and can be contacted by you if your lead professional is not available.

Medical Care

After your baby is discharged from hospital they will be seen by a Paediatrician. An initial appointment, usually when your baby is 3-4 months old, will introduce the ongoing medical and developmental follow up. Many children require very little intervention and will only need monitoring, however some children will need more and the Paediatrician will discuss this with you.

Cardiology check up; as children with Down’s syndrome are known to be more likely to have heart conditions, a heart scan is performed in the first days of life to ensure any concerns can be monitored.

Eye check up; you will be asked to attend an eye clinic to ensure there are no concerns with your child’s sight that may impact on development. This appointment is normally when your baby is between 2-4 months old.

Hearing test; your child will have the new born test and then a second check at 8 months old to ensure there are no concerns with hearing that may affect development at a later time. Hearing tests will take place as required but at least once a year as some children are prone to glue ear and congestion.

Early Support

Support will be tailored following assessment to meet your child’s individual needs and is available if required from:

Early Support home visitor; will help you plan activities and ways to help your child learn in small achievable steps. This help can be one to one at home, or through a specialist ‘Support for Learning group’ at a Children’s Centre or similar venue.

Speech & Language Therapy; if required provide support on feeding concerns and advise on early communication using visual cues such as Makaton signing.

Occupational Therapy; will assess your child if needed for any equipment requirements and help to aid development in the early stages.

Physiotherapy; if required will give advice on your child’s physical needs and help progress gross motor skills. You may also be referred to Orthotics once your child is weight bearing.
