What happens next?

The feedback we receive will help us to understand the level of support for the proposed scheme and views on parking in your area. We also welcome the views of people who park within the areas who may not be residents.

To enable this scheme to progress to a statutory consultation, a clear consensus of support for the proposed parking plan is required so we welcome your views.

Even if you do not drive or own a car, the scheme may affect you as a resident and any visitors you receive.

We’ve listened to requests from local households for a residents’ parking scheme in their area after regularly experiencing parking difficulties. We’re now consulting to get your views on our proposed plans.

Please complete the survey inside this leaflet, one per household or online at www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/resident-parking-scheme-consultation by 4 December 2017.
The proposal

The intention is to ensure that residents have priority over parking within their area, whilst also ensuring that the needs of local businesses and community facilities are taken into account.

The introduction of a residents’ parking scheme ring fences available parking spaces to those people who live in the area. It should enable those who regularly find it difficult to park within a reasonable distance of their home due to other competing parking demands, to find a space.

A combination of resident parking bays (where only vehicles with permits can park), pay & display bays and/or limited waiting bays (which enable short-stay non-permit parking for those using local facilities) may be proposed.

The removal of current free on-street parking spaces and the road safety improvements that a scheme brings aims to reduce congestion, reduce air pollution and generally improve the local environment for everyone.

The Greater Cambridge Partnership Executive Board will fund the implementation costs associated with this scheme.

How will it work?

To park in a scheme during the operational hours a valid permit is required and must be displayed in the vehicle. A permit does not guarantee a space. A Penalty Charge Notice (PCN) may be issued to any vehicle not displaying a valid permit when parked in a resident-only bay during the scheme’s operational hours.

The outcome of the scheme will mean overall parking spaces may be reduced to accommodate the possible introduction of features such as limited waiting bays and also to ensure clear access for service and emergency vehicles.

Permits

Residents’ permits are limited to three per household. Visitor permits are limited to 20 per applicant (each permit allows five visits). Other permits are available such as free medical, community facilities (as highlighted on map) may be proposed.

The annual permit charge depends on the scheme and hours of enforcement. The proposed permit costs for this scheme are:

- Residents’ permits £77
- Visitors’ permits £15

Please note, the proposed permits prices are still subject to approval. Visit our website for the most up to date information on permit costs.
